

PERILS DISCLOSES FINAL LOSS ESTIMATE FOR EXTRATROPICAL CYCLONE ZEUS OF EUR 272M

Zurich, 6 March 2018 – PERILS, the independent Zurich-based organisation providing industry-wide catastrophe insurance data, has today disclosed its fourth and final loss estimate for Extratropical Cyclone Zeus, which affected France on 6 and 7 March 2017.

The revised estimate of the property insurance market loss is EUR 272 million. This compares to the third loss estimate of EUR 284 million which was issued by PERILS on 6 September 2017, six months after the event. PERILS' loss estimates are based on actual loss data collected from insurance companies.

This fourth loss number is issued twelve months after the event, in line with the PERILS reporting schedule.

In this final loss report, the market loss data are again available by CRESTA zone and property line of business. This loss footprint information is complemented by gust speed values and loss ratios which show the incurred loss from Zeus as a percentage of the sums insured.

Extratropical Cyclone Zeus, market loss footprint in France: The majority of the losses from windstorm Zeus occurred in France. In its final loss report, PERILS estimates the total market loss of Zeus at EUR 272m.
